Turin, March 14. N. S.

THE Term fixed by the Duke of Savoy's laſt Proclamation for the Rebels of Mondovi to ſurrender themſelves, being expired, Orders were ſent to the Governor of Verceil, who commands his Royal Highneſs's Forces in thoſe Parts, to march againſt them; In the mean time, the Rebels being grown deſperate, attacked the Regiment of Chablais commanded by the Count de Nazaro, which they put into diſorder, killing the Colonel, and divers Soldiers. The Duke's Troops having received a Reinforcement, ſoon after fell upon the Rebels in three ſeveral Places near Vico, and forced them from thence; But while the Soldiers were buſied in Plundering, a Party of the Rebels returned and Charged them, and killed and wounded ſeveral, and amongſt others, the Count de la Roche, Colonel of the Regiment of Montferrat, received a Wound, of which 'tis thought he will hardly recover. The Duke's Troops were ſoon put into order again, and beat back the Rebels with great loſs, who, to ſave themſelves, retired to the Mountains, where as on one hand they are ſecured by poſting themſelves in Places that are inacceſſible, ſo on the other they will not be able long to ſubſiſt. In the Actions before-mentioned divers of the Rebels were killed, and others taken Priſoners, and the chief of the latter have been executed.

On the 5th Inſtant, being the King's Birth-day, he was Complimented by the Foreign Miniſters, and other Perſons of Quality, and in the evening there was a very fine Firework.
